PRESS RELEASE - INDIAN OCEAN ANNOUNCES NEW SPACE AT HIGH POINT

Indian Ocean announce the opening of new showroom space at High Point Market this Spring. Located at 313 Space, a striking state-of-the-art showroom in a meticulously restored historic mill in the heart of High Point, NC, USA

With a successful history of exporting to both interior designers and private clients in America, this is the natural next step in Indian Ocean's commitment to the US market. As one of the most prestigious trade events in the furniture industry, High Point Market provides the perfect stage to unveil Indian Ocean's latest outdoor collections alongside their iconic designs.

Established in 1990, with a passion for innovation Indian Ocean design and make superior collections of luxury outdoor furniture using only the finest quality materials, finished to the highest specifications and focusing on every detail. The arrival of Indian Ocean on the furniture design scene some 35 years ago coincided with a shift in the way we design, use and view our outdoor living spaces. Design that links indoor with out, via a series of seamlessly flowing spaces, has become de rigueur and Indian Ocean played a part in this lifestyle change.

Founder, Jamie Hobbs first imported beautiful, oversized parasols from Madagascar, where his father was then the Honorary Consul. He followed this up with a complementary collection of Teak garden furniture and named the business Indian Ocean in homage to its primary inspiration. Elegant, comfortable 'heritage' pieces remain part of the core collection. The modern quality surpasses the criteria for furniture destined for outdoors, successfully combining the pleasures of outdoor living with contemporary aesthetics. Edgy, contemporary designs to furnish a variety of outside spaces, including all outdoor accoutrements for modern outdoor living, all now form part of the collection. 'Our teak heritage pieces link to the traditions of the past, but we are constantly innovating for the future,' says Jamie. 'We offer the most technically advanced fabrics, and designs which are inspiring and practical as well as totally comfortable and relaxing, enhancing our enjoyment of the great outdoors.'

Opening 23rd April 2025.

313 South Centennial Street, High Point, NC 27260, USA
