

Jamie Young Co. Brings Global Perspective and Timeless Craftsmanship to Fall 2025 Collection at High Point Market

Artisan textures, sculptural lighting, and modern heirlooms that bring warmth and character to the season

LOS ANGELES, CA (October 2025) – Jamie Young Co., a recognized authority in the lighting and home décor industry, unveils its Fall 2025 Collection at High Point Market. The new assortment celebrates a globally inspired vision rooted in natural textures and elevated craftsmanship. Known for blending artisanal techniques with modern sensibility, the brand's newest pieces embody timeless style while offering a fresh perspective for the season ahead.

The collection showcases a wide range of materials and finishes, from hand-carved mango wood and stamped ceramics to woven raffia, blown glass, and polished brass. Each design is thoughtfully crafted to bring warmth, character, and approachable sophistication to interiors, staying true to Jamie Young Co.'s legacy of artistry and enduring style.

"We're thrilled to introduce the newest additions to the Jamie Young Co. Collection, a launch that builds momentum around the pieces our community loves most," said Jamie Young, Founder and President of Jamie Young Co. "From expanded mirror designs and organic yet glamorous furniture to ocean-inspired beaded silhouettes and fresh lighting, each introduction reflects our passion for craftsmanship and modern elegance. The October collection ties it all together with an elevated, understated sophistication."

Continuing the brand's tradition of pairing elevated craftsmanship with approachable design, the Fall 2025 Collection introduces pieces that resonate with both design professionals and homeowners alike. From luminous glass to tactile textiles, each element reflects Jamie Young Co.'s passion for artistry, materiality, and enduring style.

The Fall 2025 Collection will be available for trade members through Jamie Young Co.'s trade portal and will be on display at High Point Market in the IHFC Building, Floor 2, Showroom D223, and Interhall IH505.

For more information on the Fall 2025 Collection and additional new launches from the brand, please visit <https://www.jamieyoung.com>.

###

Media Contact:

Allie Saliani

A Design Partnership

allie@adesignpartnership.com

ABOUT JAMIE YOUNG COMPANY

Jamie Young Co. embodies an elegant fusion of diverse styles, seamlessly blending unconventional designs with widespread appeal. Established by Jamie Young and David Jeter, the brand's two-decade journey encapsulates their mutual passion for art and exploration, yielding accessible yet intricately creative pieces. Stemming from Jamie's Californian upbringing and David's sculpting expertise, their individual inspirations converge within Jamie Young Co., amplified by global travels and the inviting ambiance of Southern California.