Quorum Introduces Dorato, A Luxury LED Mirror Collection Defined by Gold Leaf Detailing

Brand Debuts First-Ever Illuminated Floor Mirror as Part of Expanded Decorative Mirror Offering

FORT WORTH, TX (October 2026) – Quorum is bringing a new level of sophistication to illuminated mirrors with the introduction of the Dorato Collection, a premium assortment of LED mirrors distinguished by gold leaf detailing, integrated lighting technology and refined design. The launch also marks an important milestone for the company with the debut of its first-ever illuminated floor mirror, expanding Quorum into a new product category.

Designed to blur the line between decorative accent and functional lighting, the Dorato Collection combines a rich gold leaf inner frame with a sleek black outer edge, creating a striking contrast and a sophisticated visual presence across residential and commercial interiors. The result is a collection that feels more like a framed piece of art than a traditional LED mirror.

Available in a variety of rectangular and oval formats, including vanity mirrors, full-length mirrors and a dramatic illuminated floor mirror, Dorato offers designers greater flexibility for bathrooms, dressing areas, bedrooms, hospitality projects and luxury multifamily developments.

Integrated LED illumination delivers a clean, flattering glow ideal for daily grooming while enhancing the ambiance of a space. A three-touch control system allows users to adjust color temperature to suit different needs and environments, while an integrated defogger adds convenience in bath applications.

"The Dorato Collection represents our continued commitment to delivering design-forward solutions that blend beauty and performance," said David Patton, Director of Design. "The gold leaf finish gives these mirrors a refined, luxury aesthetic, while the introduction of our first illuminated floor mirror expands the possibilities for how decorative mirrors can be used throughout the home."

Constructed of glass, acrylic and steel, the Dorato Collection is available in multiple sizes and configurations. Select models can be mounted vertically or horizontally, allowing designers and homeowners to customize installations to suit a variety of spaces.

With its combination of premium finishes, integrated technology and statement-making design, Dorato offers a sophisticated new option for projects seeking both functional illumination and decorative impact.

The new collection is available through Quorum's showroom at High Point, Suites at Market Square M1000A-B.
